

SCOUTS GO OUT
AFTER THE FLYOrganized Boys will Report to Cleanup Officers All Breeding Spots.

Every afternoon during the coming week, when the cleanup campaign will be continued by federal, county and city health officers in El Paso county, Boy Scouts, under the leadership of their executive, Ivan G. Thomas, will scour the city and make careful note for the health authorities of breeding places for flies or mosquitoes, tin cans, manure heaps, stagnant water and the like. Each boy will have an allotted territory for which he will be responsible.

The county health officer, Dr. W. P. Rogers, will furnish blanks on which the boys will report every night to their respective scout masters. These blanks will then be turned over to the health authorities, who will take the necessary steps in the matter.

News Courtesy To Boys.
"It is gratifying," said Dr. Rogers Saturday, "to have the assistance of these trained and organized boys in our cleanup week and assist the fly campaign, and I urge everyone to show the boys every courtesy possible, as they are rendering a great service to their country and city by helping to keep the breeding places for flies and mosquitoes from multiplying and thus spreading disease by fighting insect pests."

Instructions In Two Languages.
The boys will also distribute cards calling everyone's attention to the "patriotic duty at home," to abate unsanitary conditions and thus banish the fly and mosquito. Similar instructions will be printed in Spanish for those who cannot read English.

The movement is an important one, in the opinion of all the health officers, for it is now time when the pests begin to hibernate and a general campaign at this time means fewer flies in the spring.

Tells of Fly's Menace.
As proof of the underrating of the following, contained in "Fly Caricatures," issued by the state board of health:
"Over 6,000,000 germs have been found on the body of a single fly. There were about 12,553 cases of typhoid fever and about 1545 deaths from typhoid in Texas last year. This was as 254 deaths from enteritis, and a great many other unnecessary deaths; and the germs carried by flies caused a great part of these deaths. More than 7500 babies under five years of age die every year. Many of these deaths are due to flies carrying disease to babies' food."

READY TO BEGIN
MESACARLINELuke Bradley Says Hasn't Heard Demand for Track to High School.

"Construction on the mile extension of the street car system on the mesa line will start Monday," said Luke C. Bradley, assistant manager of the Stone & Webster properties in Texas, Saturday. "This line will run to Kern Place, and will serve the swiftly growing community on the top of the mesa. The work should be completed in a few weeks."

Mr. Bradley disclaimed all knowledge of the demand for a street car line to the new high school, and said that as he had never heard there was such a need, and had not studied the question he could not discuss it.

Flavors Relations With Mexico.
Concerning the growth and promise of El Paso as a city, Mr. Bradley said: "I note with pleasure the growing attempt among the best citizens of both El Paso and Mexico, to make better the relations between the two countries. It seems to me that the more trade relations which are established between El Paso and Juarez and indeed, all Mexico, will be to the advantage of both the United States and that country. El Paso should be the trade, pleasure and social center for Mexico, and this can only be accomplished by the efforts of the best citizens."

Believes In Land Development.
Hundreds of workers are employed constructing changes in buildings at Fort Bliss, and many more changes are expected to be undertaken in the near future it was asserted Saturday. It is expected that warehouses will be built along the new railroad tracks which have been completed by the government connecting the new G. H. & S. A. spur, which has been recently run into the reservation from Alameda station and also along the tracks of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad. There are now five railroads running in the reservation and more tracks may be laid.

The new pumping system is completed, and the sewer connection is practically finished with the exception of a few short spurs through the infantry camp. Extensions have been made in the old bakery, a new bakery is contemplated, and the installation of new ovens will make this the largest and most complete bakery at any military post.

Cantonment Checks Moved.
Within the last ten days 65 cantonment "checks" have been moved from former main camp to a location near the base hospital where some of them will be used to house isolation cases of disease.

Five new cantonment buildings for the motor truck train have just been finished. There will be seven when the train is complete. At the truck shop a gasoline station has been installed with a tank holding 0.900 gallons of gasoline and another holding 8000 gallons of oil.

Police officers have been appointed to the navy yard in Brooklyn.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST GEO. PENDELL QUASHED BY HOWE
The indictments found against county commissioner George Pendell at the last term of the grand jury were all quashed by Judge W. D. Howe, 24th district court, Saturday morning, on motion filed by his counsel, Dale & Harper, attorneys representing the commissioner and his codefendant, W. T. Duncan, foreman of road work.

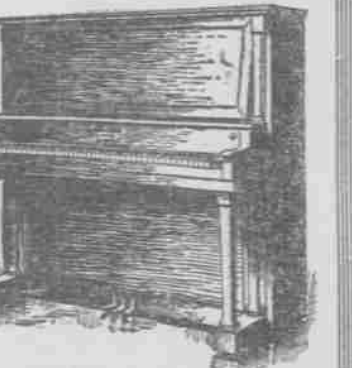

Motions to quash were filed in each of the five cases, two of which name Duncan alone and the remainder of which name both. One of the Duncan motions was not taken up by the court on its filing.

The indictments quashed alleged conspiracy in making roadwork accounts for work done for the county and duplicate charge accounts.

REALTORS WANT
ELECTRIC POWERTake Stand at Meeting for Cooperation to Harness
Water at Dam.

Harnessing of the waters of Elephant Butte dam, with a resulting plant that will furnish all the power needed to light Rincon, Las Cruces, El Paso, Chini, Yuleta and Fabens, and to turn a mill on every farm in the two valleys, is an object the El Paso real estate board declared itself as going after, at the board's bimonthly luncheon at Hotel Sheldon Saturday noon.

The matter was brought up by E. W. Park, secretary, and every member present agreed it should be done at once. The coming of cheap power means everything for the future of El Paso, said Mr. Park, and cheap power means more smokestacks. Furthermore, only cheap power will bring more factories to the city, and more factories mean more jobs for the people.

Referring to a movement some time back to have the plant created, Geo. R. LeBaron said El Paso would now have a total valuation of $10,000. It may be that proper drainage is to agricultural lands what proper sanitation is to human health.

Committee Is Named.
It was decided that the proper method to pursue would be through a committee to wait on the few water associations and get their officers to pledge the necessary cooperation, and to interest the chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis club and other organizations.

President A. L. Anderson appointed on this committee J. L. Marr, J. C. White, George R. LeBaron, C. J. Mangel, Otto Coles, W. F. Payne and Lamar Davis.

City San Angelo's Cheap Power.
The experience of cities with power furnished by natural water sources was referred to in the discussion. San Angelo, at a price one third less than El Paso, it was said, is a better example.

A letter from the city of San Angelo, New York, asking that El Paso realtors take steps to fight a proposed government plan to build a dam on the Rio Grande, was read, but as the national real estate board has not yet taken action, no action was taken.

CHARLIE POLLOCK FOR POLICE CHIEF; JENKINS FOR JUDGE?
Charles E. Pollock, at present corporation court judge, will be appointed chief of police, chief B. J. Jenkins having decided to resign, and Ben Jenkins will be corporation court judge, according to a consistent rumor circulating for the past several months among citizens who have been following the police affairs.

The changes according to the rumor, will mean the combination of mayor Charles Davis. However, when asked Saturday if they were contemplated, the mayor replied in an emphatic negative.

Such rumors have been frequent since the resignation of former captain of detectives Tom L. Avarul.

GOAT HEADS THE LIST OF THINGS REPORTED MISSING
Articles listed as missing and stolen by the city detective bureau Saturday were as follows:
Mercedes Granillo, 1111 Tays street, a goat.
Walter Gossard, a watch and clothing.
W. H. Goff, 618 East San Antonio, two suitcases of clothing.
John Hagyard, 204 South Hill street, a bicycle.
Thomas Cain, a $50 bill, five $5 bills and $2 in silver.
C. Hamilton, 861 North Oregon, gold ring.
J. Miller, White House, a check for $10 and one for $2.

ANNIE MC'COY GIVES BOND AFTER RAID BY OFFICERS
A house in the 2000 block of Magnolia avenue was raided by special deputies Henry Blum and Walter Hicks Friday evening. A large quantity of beer, wine and whisky was brought to the sheriff's office by the officers following the raid, and Annie McCoy was placed under arrest on a vagrancy warrant. She was released on making a $500 bond.

MADE BY A SICK MAN
His model of a sailing ship was made by Adolf Lindall, an inmate of Fort Stanton sanatorium, of the United States public health service. He spent the better part of three years working on it and it is valued by experts at the very least at $500. It is a real work of art, especially when one considers the simple tools used in its construction. The dimensions are: Length, 3 feet 9 inches; height, 35 inches; width, 14 inches, including a glass case. The ship was completed before the war broke out, but by a happy inspiration, was named "Liberty."

DRAINAGE GETS LARGER CROPSEngineer Murphy Says It's Necessary, Like Sanitation for Humans.

"Why is drainage necessary, and what are the benefits derived from it?" were two questions answered by D. W. Murphy, drainage engineer in charge of drainage at 26 projects of the reclamation service, Saturday.

"These are questions frequently asked concerning irrigated lands; they are equally applicable to lands of the humid areas when water for the use of crops is supplied directly by rainfall," said Mr. Murphy.

"Perhaps the best answer that can be made are: Drainage is necessary over a large part of the agricultural areas of the United States. In order to keep soils in proper physical condition for the growth of crops; the benefits which are derived from it are equal to those of irrigation. Soils require care to maintain their productivity, and drainage is one of the important factors in this care. It may be said that proper drainage is to agricultural lands what proper sanitation is to human health."

Increase Land Values.
"Examples are common where, without drainage, lands would be wholly unproductive. In such cases, however, it may be regarded as a means for increasing land values by making possible greater returns on crop values. In other words, the ultimate benefits of drainage are not to be measured by the acres actually reclaimed from a useless condition, but also by those whose crop producing value is increased," said Mr. Murphy.

Is Safe Investment.
"It has been stated that the amount of land reclaimed through drainage in the United States exceeds that reclaimed through irrigation. This statement cannot be questioned by one familiar with drainage operations in the various states. The work that has been done, and the results achieved, both in the humid and arid regions, are sufficient to show that drainage is possible, and that money expended for it is a safe investment."

CALLS ISLAND LANDOWNERS TO MEET HERE THURSDAY
James A. Smith, president of the El Paso Valley Water Users' association, has called a meeting of all landowners on the island, to meet in the association's office in the Mills building on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

"Work on the lateral canal," Mr. Smith said, "has been delayed, as there are not enough surveyors and draughtsmen to do the work. It is hoped that the reclamation service will be able to get an adequate number of men to enable it to push this work by day's end."
